Drive the Highest User Adoption

Make the most of your conferencing investment

The iMeet Agenday mobile app provides users with a faster, secure and more convenient way to connect to any conference call through single-touch access into any meeting. Benefit from cost savings and increased employee productivity due to users connecting to lower-cost access numbers on mobile and one-touch conferencing entry. The goal for Agenday is to drive the highest adoption rate of your conferencing investment.

Enhance Employee Productivity

iMeet Agenday enables single-touch access into any conference accessed from the user's calendar display, connecting users securely, quickly and conveniently. Automatic dialing and passcode entry enhances the user experience and eliminates the need for users to look up and dial a local number.

Manage Conference Call Costs

No longer worry about managing audio costs. iMeet Agenday automatically dials the most local number using our patented local call routing (LCR), yielding cost savings and higher call quality. International travelers benefit from the VoIP option, saving on connection costs while dialing in on their domestic mobile.
